PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

WE HAVE A NEW NAME!!

As those of you who attended the Homecoming Tea and Banquet know, we have a new name! The membership voted unanimously to change the name of our organization to Rush Presbyterian St. Luke's Nurses Alumni Association. It's considerably shorter than our previous name, has no hyphens and should be easier to get on a check! The impact of this name change is great . . . and means we have lots of work to do. Our by-laws are in the process of revision and we hope to mail them out to you soon. We have made provision in the revised by-laws so that the graduates of Rush College of Nursing will become members of our Association. What a pleasure it was to once again have a group of students as our guests at the Banquet! They are an eager, enthusiastic group and we look forward to having them join us upon graduation.

Our membership has remained quite stable (over 2,000 active members) but our costs have risen fantastically: postage has increased, printing and paper costs have risen tremendously and the Board of Directors believes it may become necessary to ask the general membership to vote on a dues increase. As long as I have been a member, the dues has remained at $3.00 annually and the Life Membership cost is the greatest bargain of all; however, if we are to continue to operate our organization in today's economy, a dues increase is a reality.

Watch for a report on the A.N.A. Convention in San Francisco in the next issue of News and Views . . . it will probably contain information, which will be vital to the nursing profession. The issue of Continuing Education to maintain your license as a registered nurse is the prime topic of discussion and I hope to have a full report for you when I return.

Dorothy Hughes

PLEASE WRITE

The Alumni Board of Directors would like to hear from our members their views concerning the date of our annual Homecoming. Currently our by-laws state it shall be the third Thursday of April. Several have suggested changing the date, day and the season. So that we may know your opinion please write your suggestion to the editor.

Dear Friends and Loved Ones,

For the first time since 1959 I'm spending Christmas Day at home. The young people from the villages immediately surrounding Ibong who work in the big cities decided to make use of the long Christmas weekend decreed by President Ahidjo to have a "gathering of the clan" to discuss and make plans for some of Ibong's needs—primarily upkeep, repairs, and reconstruction. I consider this interest of our city young people in their home village extremely important; and, since all of it touches me in some way, it was essential that I be here. My activities before their arrival and since haven't given me so much as a minute to put up the decorations given to me by retired friends, and as yet not seen by my girls. Christmas decorations are a brilliant, star-spangled sky undimmed by city lights and my creche a healthy, lovely, cuddly baby in my arms who wouldn't be alive if I weren't here. Little Sara came to us when she was eight months old, weighing exactly what she had when she was born. The "gathering" closed this evening, so I baby-sat while the rest attended the nine p.m. to midnight Christmas Eve service. We'll attend the Christmas Day service. Since I catnapped while they were gone, I'm now awake and am going to start celebrating the day by playing my Christmas records and at least starting a visit with you. I sleep only when I can't keep awake.

New Year's Eve, at Nikol Mvolan, a day's and a half drive away from Ibong.

Happy New Year and all that the Lord knows you have need of!

This first paragraph was suddenly interrupted by odd sounds outside, which I never would have heard had I been asleep. On investigation, I found swarms of driver ants in the backyard, with the baby chicks and guinea pigs covered with them. The baby chicks, especially, were so weak from shock and loss of blood, I hardly expected them to live, but when daylight came, all were alive. The remainder of Christmas Day turned out in usual Ibong fashion—not at all like the quiet day I had planned. Even the noon meal had changed. I had been looking forward to having creamed dried beef and a tin of corn to celebrate, but before I could prepare it, the girls presented me with a large tray of already prepared local food, so the dried beef had to wait for another special occasion. I'm spending New Year's weekend with Evelyn Adams since I couldn't be with her for Christmas, and this will be her last holiday season out here. She reached retirement age a year ago but has continued her medical and women's work as a volunteer. She picked me up in Yaounde while Ebogo went to his village.

Please do not judge my gratitude by my long silence. It is simply that the one thing the Lord hasn't granted me is more than 24 hours in the day. Every attempt of the church to find some Camerounian to take over one or more of my responsibilities has ended in failure. I get more assignments instead of less. Babimbi is rough, be you black or white, and most of our capable people are in good jobs outside.

Also, Nyunai wants to thank everyone most sincerely for all the used greeting cards that have been mailed to him. Please keep them coming. He has over 600 children every Sunday so he can use to good advantage unlimited numbers of cards and Sunday School pictures. His address is: Nyunai, Gustave Gutenberg, C.P.E. Dispensaire, EDEA, Cameroun.

Car problems have dominated the months since my return from furlough. Many hours and days have been spent on all trips repairing the car, whichever one it was, and far too many plans had to be abandoned. We're always behind schedule. My baggage with the car parts is through customs and should soon be in Yaounde. Perhaps then, the cars can be sufficiently repaired so plans made can have a chance to materialize.

Ebogo was five days late putting in his appearance when I returned from furlough, so the first order of business was a frantic attempt to get the young folks to their various secondary schools on time. That accomplished, primary schools, baby clinics, and general clinics came next. We had a more reasonable rainy season this year, which helped; and welcome, occasional rains extended into the dry season. There was a good deal of walking to do to the bush schools and clinics which takes time but has its own compensations. One afternoon we were held up by heavy rains and had to walk in the dark. When we came to a river, we found it had risen to well above the big log which served as a bridge. There was nothing to hang onto, the water was running swiftly, and I was warned that the log was crooked. By shuffling along sideways, feeling each step with my stockinged feet and looking upstream so what my eyes saw wouldn't distract from what my feet felt, I and all the others crossed safely. But it has all paid off well. All but one of our schools will probably make the grade financially, about the only group of schools under our entire church that can. But I have been given the finances of 15 more schools in the southwest part of Babimbi and they are not so fortunate. For the last five years they have been collecting a set of circumstances that has ruined them financially. Perhaps I can save some of them where the people of the village have a sincere desire to preserve their school. Only government schools mean that many small children must go long distances to get to school, and others in the upper grades, only ten and twelve years old, must find places to live away from home and are poorly cared for. It isn't so much a matter of less money in other places and more in Babimbi. Actually it is the opposite. It is a matter of how they want to spend their money, and in the Ibong area, their schools are still a priority.

The biggest change is the rise in the cost of living. Before furlough, there was a large raise in salaries by presidential decree that closed down the way I had been caring for the babies, and necessitated my trying to find another. Then in September I found another raise had been added. The cost of food didn't rise—it jumped, some items as much as 40 percent overnight. Gasoline was already $1 a gallon before I went on furlough. Heaven only knows where it will go next. I really wondered how I could continue care of the babies. But when little Sara came along, one look at her told me the Lord didn't intend for me to let her starve to death, and when this last week twin baby boys were headed for the same fate, all doubts flew out the door, and a stronger faith and the tweins came in.

Most of our children from the last resettlement who had the severe malnutrition from total lack of protein have been returned to their families amid great rejoicing. Since the last terrorist has been killed, we hope that the circumstances that led to such malnutrition are over. But the impassable roads still mean transportation problems and no milk available for small motherless babies. My care of them is still essential.

So I'm off into the new year with babies in my arms, strength in my body for all He gives me to do, faith and love in my heart, praise and thanksgiving on my lips, the sunlight on my way by day and the moon and the stars by night (so many of my nights are active and need their light), and a fourth year medical student volunteer, David Sandell from Austin, Minnesota, to help me during the next two packed-full months.

With my love and gratitude to you all,
MARABELLE TAYLOR

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE CONVENTION EXCERPTS

Action-oriented from start to finish, ANA's Convention '74 made history in the health care field.

The association's 49th convention, built around the theme, "Special Interests—Common Goals," drew a record attendance—10,088 registrants. Participants worked around the clock, despite the lure of San Francisco's cosmopolitan charm.

At the Civic Auditorium, convention headquarters, the 980 members of the House of Delegates deliberated over Bylaws revisions, motions, and 44 resolutions dealing with such major issues as National Health Insurance, Professional Standards Review Organizations, and accreditation of continuing education programs.

Emergency resolutions were introduced and approved to seek support of the Northern California nurses' strike (see story, this issue) and to "reject and condemn" the proposed Army Health Services Physician-in-Charge Program (P-I-C).

The substance of the P-I-C program is that the physician in charge of each U.S. Army medical treatment facility "will have complete responsibility for all professional aspects of patient care."

In passing this resolution, the House specified that ANA request an emergency meeting with the Defense Advisory Committee of Women in the Service and that the ANA President confer with the Surgeon General of the U.S. Army and the Chief of the Army Nurse Corps.

Major Vote on PSROs

The stage was now set for the delegates to consider the parade of resolutions to come, starting with a resolution on "Participation of Nurses in Professional Standards Review Programs." The resolution to seek legislative support for the participation and contribution of nurses in PSROs became ANA policy.

Two weeks later, PSROs were to be a prime issue at the American Medical Association's House of Delegates in Chicago. The new AMA resolution calls for the AMA Board of Trustees to work for "constructive amendments."

Focus On Health Insurance

Another major resolution coming before the ANA House concerned National Health Insurance, which spells out in detail the principles ANA believes that National Health Insurance (NHI) should include. Covered are such items as:

- NHI should guarantee coverage for all people for the full range of health services
- Nursing care should be a benefit
- Data systems should protect the rights and privacy of individuals
- There should be individual licensure for professionals
- Provision should be made for consumer participation
- NHI should be financed through payroll taxes or payment of premiums by the self-employed, and purchase of health insurance coverage for the poor and unemployed from general tax revenues.

Other significant actions taken by the House were:

—That implementation of standards for nursing practice be given major priority

—That programs for certification for excellence in practice be conducted at the national level of the profession and be discouraged at the state level

—That ANA reaffirm its position in support of individual licensure as a means of assuring the public that nurses who practice for hire possess the basic knowledge and skills to provide safe care to the consumer

—That ANA reaffirm support of continuing education programs and that SNAs move forward to strengthen continuing education recognition programs

—That where representation and collective bargaining activities cross state lines, ANA is authorized after consultation or in cooperation with SNAs to initiate contact and offer its services

—That efforts to effect direct fee-for-service reimbursement for nursing practitioners by both the public and third-party payers be continued

—That the House of Delegates direct the ANA Board of Directors to move with all deliberate speed to establish a system of accreditation of continuing education programs in nursing, and ANA move just as expeditiously to examine the feasibility of accreditation of basic and graduate education

—That ANA, the government and other appropriate national bodies establish a test to screen foreign nurses in their country of origin; that ANA work to eradicate exploitive recruitment; that ANA work to harmonize international standards of licensure and education; that the Council of State Boards be urged to assist with the identification of unlicensed foreign nurses and help them become qualified for licensure.

Bylaws Action Taken

Other actions taken by the House concerned bylaws changes on the American Academy of Nursing, the American Journal of Nursing, and ANA Bylaws revision.

Bylaws amendment broadened the purpose of the Academy to include advancing new concepts, not only in nursing, but also in the health care field. Eligibility for membership was broadened to include nurse researchers, educators, and administrators.

The American Journal of Nursing was named the professional journal of ANA and The American Nurse, the official organ.

AJN Policy Retained

In considering the issue of the American Journal of Nursing as a membership benefit, delegates decided to retain the current subscription procedure. ANA members now offered receive the AJN at a reduced cost and the member's district nurses' association receives a dollar for each subscription ordered through the district.

Delegates also approved five basic premises to give direction to the Bylaws Committee in preparing a revision of bylaws for presentation to the 1976 House of Delegates.

- The basic unit of the American Nurses' Association shall be the individual registered nurse.
- Membership in the ANA shall be limited to registered nurses only.
- The ANA shall be based on the three-tier concept (national, and district).
- Membership in the ANA must be held concurrently in all three levels of the association.
- The Bylaws Committee in its work on the revisions to be presented at the 1976 House of Delegates give some consideration to bylaw provisions which will allow for innovative and creative experimentation with regard to membership.

A complete set of resolutions, Bylaws amendments and ANA priorities, as endorsed by the House, will be carried in the August issue of The American Nurse.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT 1974

In this year's Annual Report, I wish to thank the Board of Directors, the Officers, the Committee Chairmen, Members of each Committee and the Members at large for their continued support of the Alumni Association and for their support of me. For the past four years, I have been privileged to serve as your President . . . a spokesman for all of you . . . but the progress that this Organization has made has been due to the dedicated efforts of those people who serve on its Board and on the Committees. I express my thanks and that of the entire membership for their enthusiasm, energy and loyalty to the Alumni Organization.

During the past year, four Board Meetings and five regular meetings have been held. Special meetings were called as indicated.

We have again met our pledge of another $10,000.00 to the College of Nursing to furnish a Skills Laboratory . . . the second of three payments.

The Golden Lamp Society continues to receive donations from Alumni all over the country and we currently have over $12,000.00 in that fund.

At Homecoming last April, the membership voted to change our name to Rush Presbyterian St. Luke's Nurses Alumni Association so that we may welcome the Rush graduates into our Organization. We have already extended courtesy membership to the four graduates of Rush College of Nursing.

It had been the hope of the Board that the increase in dues might have been voted on at this meeting; however, the capricious nature of today's postal system prevented our attaining that goal. We could not fulfill the by-laws regulation requiring us to notify the membership thirty (30) days in advance of any by-laws change. We hope to be able to vote on that change at the February meeting.

Respectfully submitted,
Dorothy Hughes
President

ANNUAL REPORT 1974
AUDITOR REPORT

Board of Directors
Rush Presbyterian St. Lukes Nurses Alumni Association
Chicago, Illinois
Mesdames:

We have examined the Statement of Financial Condition of the Rush Presbyterian St. Lukes Alumni Association as of August 31, 1974 and related statements of cash receipts and disbursements of the several fund for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the aforementioned statements present fairly the financial position of the Rush Presbyterian St. Lukes Nurses Alumni Association at August 31, 1974, arising from cash transactions, and the revenues collected and expenditures made by it and changes in fund balances during the year then ended on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Respectfully submitted,
PINZUR, BERNSTEIN, PAULL & WOLOSHIN
